

TO BE LISTED

U. S. Marshal Noonan Endeavoring to Complete Military Census

PERMITS SCRUTINIZED

Passes Issued to Navy Yard Employees Undergoing Rigid Examination

United States Marshal Frank J. Noonan is endeavoring to take a military census of alien enemies in Pennsylvania, he said today, and will ask the assistance of all the draft boards in the state.

The Marshal wants to list all enemy aliens so that he may advise them as to their rights, privileges and duties. He now has a partial list of them and when it is completed he will ask Washington's authority to give it to the newspapers.

Two hundred and fifty to 400 enemy aliens visit the Marshal's office daily to ask what they must do. It is a huge task to meet them and explain the Government's requirements of them and restrictions of their movements. If a complete list can be obtained, letters can be written to all the enemy aliens.

All permits issued some time ago to persons employed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard were recalled today and are being examined by officials of the yard. The permits, which were issued by the office at the navy yard, are being recalled because the permits are being held by right-ful persons. Each permit has a photograph of the holder.

Every time the stretch of water front in this city will be constantly illuminated at night, according to information given out by Federal authorities here today. Plans are being formed to place searchlights on the waterfront at all piers, wharves and docks, thereby facilitating the task of guarding this restricted district and also lessening the number of men required to do all dock and pier work.

Letters were sent out this morning, asking them for complete surveys of their piers, indicating the fire protection, the lighting facilities, the number of guards now employed and the number of guards now employed.

"This," explains Marshal Noonan, "is to enable military authorities to gain a complete knowledge of the waterfront and the number of guards now employed. It is necessary for the guarding of other piers besides those now under military surveillance."

It has been brought to the attention of Frank L. Garbarino, local agent for the Department of Justice, that there is a band of swindlers at work who are representing themselves as members of the Department of Justice and the United States Navy.

Major Smith is in Washington today, conferring with Government officials regarding the aid that will be expected of local officials here in the guarding of the waterfront and other restricted areas, and discussing local conditions.

Although local authorities have been waiting for Government orders regarding the definite placing of guards and the posting of placards, a guard of men in military clothing has been posted at the waterfront and other restricted areas, and the docks are being guarded much more carefully than is generally believed.

MAKE WHOLE U. S. DRY

PURPOSE OF NEW BILL

California Congressman Will Seek Nation-Wide Prohibition for Duration of War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Bones prohibition throughout the United States for the duration of the war as a food conservation measure is proposed in a bill Representative Randall (Cal.) has ready for introduction.

Five thousand dollars fine or two years in prison would be the penalty for selling, making, transporting, importing or use of any food, fruit or feed in production of alcoholic beverages, except for medicinal, governmental, industrial or scientific purposes.

Postmaster Secures First Baby Bond

Five cents and was purchased in the name of William E. Smith, four months old, of 1313 Walnut street.

Philadelphians who could not afford to buy Liberty Loan bonds are expected to contribute the bulk of the $115,000,000 allotment for the War Savings Committee for eastern Pennsylvania, which covers forty-eight counties east of the Alleghenies. Twenty-five cents will buy one of the third stamps.

The scope of the campaign will widen as progresses, according to Robert K. Cassatt, head of Cassatt & Co., bankers, who has been appointed director for this district. In addition to the $41 incorporated banks and trust companies designated by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo as selling agents, drug stores, cigar stores, retail stores, schools, colleges, savings societies and other places of business close to the people will be certified by the Secretary of the Treasury to act as sales agents for the baby bonds.

Headquarters of the committee for this district are at 1431 Walnut street. Two issues of the bonds will be sold. The one is listed at $4.12 and the other at twenty-five cents. They are designed especially for persons of limited means, who, according to the plan, can make small weekly payments.

"People should understand," said Mr. Cassatt, "that their money is doubly useful in these savings, as it not only draws compound interest of about 4 per cent in five years, but the money can be claimed at any time during that period and still net them fair interest during the time it is held; that is, slightly less than 3 per cent."

He explained the finances of the plan as follows: "The war-savings certificate is a card engraved on one side with the words 'United States of America War Savings Certificate,' together with the guarantee of the Government and directions for its use. On the other side are twenty spaces for pasting war certificates."

Each certificate is purchased at $4.12 and each becomes worth $5 in five years, the compound interest amounting to $1.08. The entire card, therefore, is worth $10.00 at the end of the five years.

The third card has spaces for sixteen stamps, or $4.12 each, being valued in twenty-five cents. When the card is filled with stamps, it represents a $10.00 certificate, which is a war-savings certificate, and is guaranteed by the Government and directions for its use. On the other side are twenty spaces for pasting war certificates."

WOMEN REGISTERING FOR PATRIOTIC SERVICE

A city-wide campaign for the registration of Philadelphia women for patriotic service, under the direction of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense, begins today. Miss E. Benedid is shown enrolling applicants at the registration center, 1607 Walnut street.

FIVE DEAD, TWO HURT IN MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Doctor Runs Down Three Girls in Broad Street—Men Fall From Trucks

Five persons are dead and two injured as a result of automobile accidents within the last twenty-four hours. Hearings in three of the cases were held by Magistrate Baker today. The fifth death occurred on the Lancaster pike near Ardmore.

Three sisters—Elizabeth Rannala, nine years old; Marie, twenty years old, and Matilda, fourteen years old—were killed in front of an automobile driven by Dr. C. N. Bailey, 2015 South Twenty-second street, at Broad street and Castle avenue.

He took all three to the St. Agnes Hospital, where Elizabeth died today as a result of a fractured skull. Marie is in the hospital suffering from cuts and bruises and Matilda is at her home recovering from bruises and shock.

Charles Gallen, twenty-eight years old, of 1512 Elwood street, died today from injuries received Saturday night when he fell from a truck at Broad and Tasker streets and was run over.

A similar accident resulted in the death of Andrew Armour, forty years old, a laborer employed at Hog Island at the Philadelphia Naval Yard, when he was struck by a truck at Broad and Tasker streets and was run over.

John Bradley, of 2265 Winton street, and Bernard Ruddy, of 1708 South Twenty-second street, were on the truck at the time the accident occurred, and were injured.

James Collins, fifteen years old, died at St. Agnes Hospital as a result of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile driven by Frederick Harris, twenty-eight years old, of 2024 Mountain street. The accident occurred late Saturday night. Harris was also held without bail to await the action of the coroner.

Russell Gruber, fifteen years old, of Ardmore, died at the Bryn Mawr Hospital as a result of injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by Edward De K. Kruse, a candy manufacturer, of Forty-ninth street and Baltimore avenue. The boy, who was on a bicycle, rode in front of Kruse's machine on the Lancaster pike.

MAYOR TO APPROVE NEW TRANSIT LEASE

Prospect of Agreement Gives Impetus to Advance in Certificates

The Smith-Mitten lease for operation of the city high-speed lines by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is being gone over today for the last time prior to its presentation to the Joint Committee of Finance and Street Railways on Friday. Following the meeting in Director Twining's office on Saturday afternoon, which was attended by Director Twining, William Draper Lewis, the Mayor's legal advisor on transit matters; Ellis Ames Ballard, chief counsel; and A. L. Drum, chief engineer of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, the revised lease was sent to the printer.

Proofs of the revision were returned to Director Twining today and he and the other members of the committee will discuss the lease this afternoon. When this is finished the lease will be handed to Mayor Smith for his approval; but it is likely that he will not make any changes in the lease, which is the matter of making a lease entirely in the hands of the Director of Transit and Doctor Lewis.

An indication that the city and company have reached an agreement was the further advance of P. R. T. 5 per cent trust certificates. Before noon the stock began to climb and reached 27 1/2, a jump of 3/4 over Saturday's close. During the week ending October 20 P. R. T. reached its low level for the year of 22 1/2.

LODGE WOULD DECLARE WAR ON AUSTRIANS

Essential for Allied Success, Says Ranking G. O. P. Foreign Relations Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Declaring unqualifiedly for the Austria, Senator Lodge (Mass.), ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said today it was essential for complete unity among the allies in the interest of allied unity.

"We have sent Colonel House abroad in the interest of allied unity," said Lodge. "To obtain unity it is essential that we all fight the same enemies. Therefore, we should immediately line up against Austria, which is in fact our enemy as much as Germany is."

Get No Information of Murders

Detectives Gonnelli and Callahan, of the murder squad, have returned from New York without having obtained any information from Ralph Danislo, a murderer, concerning the time of his escape from a New York prison.

Several Philadelphia murders have been mentioned by Danislo, including the murder of Brooklyn, is said to be a member of the Danislo gang.

Will Give Dance to Buy Ambulance. To buy an ambulance to be used "over there," Miss Margaret Hettzel, daughter of Select Councilman Isaac D. Hettzel, of the Eighteenth Ward, will give a subscription dance tomorrow evening in the ballroom of the Belmont Hotel. Fifty marbles and naval reserves have been invited. The Misses Elizabeth Mulford, Margaret Hettzel, and others are expected.

"OPEN VERDICT" BY JURY

Returned at Inquest on Man Found Dead by Pistol Wound

An open verdict was returned by the coroner's jury today in the case of Otto G. Friend, a civilian watchman at the Frankford Arsenal, who was instantly killed on November 6 from a gunshot wound of the abdomen. The jury, which included George H. Fager, of Company L, Twenty-seventh Infantry, testified he heard a shot on the night in question and found Friend unconscious with his revolver lying beside him.

Detective Belshaw, who investigated the case, said that the revolver was found near a pile of bricks, and that it was his belief that Friend dropped his revolver and it exploded.

Needed to Take Places of Men Called to War Work—Booths Throughout City

The registration of Philadelphia women for patriotic service, to take industrial and other positions made vacant by men who have been called into the service of the Government, began today at booths in all sections of the city. The registration, which is to continue for the remainder of the week, is under the direction of Mrs. George A. Dunning, director of the Philadelphia division, women's committee of the Council of National Defense.

The registration is voluntary. It is requested by the United States Government to determine the amount of useful service that can be given by women. The committee's literature for distribution shows that more than 100,000 men have been taken from productive employment for army and navy service in Pennsylvania alone and many more thousands have been shifted from ordinary work to war work.

Everyday essential industries operating in Philadelphia, and particularly women who have never before, are now asked to take up some useful work, no matter how light.

WILL ARREST DRIVER WHOSE CAR SLEW PAIR

Two Alleged Bandits Name Third, Who Faces Murder Charge

The killing of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wark, 1208 South Markoe street, by an automobile early last Saturday night at Fifty-eighth street and Woodland avenue, was cleared up somewhat today by the issuing of a warrant for John Burckard, a machinist, of Forty-sixth street and Woodland avenue, on the charge of murder. Issuing of the warrant for Burckard's arrest followed after the police had received information that he drove the car which ran down Wark and his wife.

Walter T. Heberon, twenty-nine years old, 1017 South Fifteenth street, employed in a garage at Fifty-first street and Springfield avenue, and William J. Rodgers, a chauffeur, of Thirty-fourth and Chancellor streets, are also under arrest on suspicion of having been passengers in the car that killed Wark and his wife.

Heberon and Rodgers have been identified, according to the police, by W. J. Baylis, a butcher, 6290 Catharine street, as men who entered his store last Saturday night and attempted to hold him up. Heberon, who was driving, managed to frighten them off, and they fled in an automobile.

The police declared today that Heberon and Rodgers made statements that they were in the car which was driven by Burckard. The car was seen at the rate of sixty miles an hour in the vicinity where the tragedy occurred. The machine in which they were riding, according to Heberon and Rodgers, was operated by Burckard. As the automobile was in the neighborhood of Fifty-eighth street and Woodland avenue, Heberon and Rodgers declare, according to the police, that the car seemed to strike some object. The machine wasn't stopped, according to the police, because, as Heberon and Rodgers expressed it, they had no idea that the car had struck anything.

Police Captain Tempest, in whose division the double killing occurred, announced today that one of the diamond earrings worn by Mrs. Wark on the night she was killed, was found embedded in a tire of the machine the police found in the garage where Heberon was employed.

35 MEXICAN BANDITS KILLED; MANY INJURED

American Cavalryman Meets Death in Repelling Border Raid on Texas Ranch

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 3.—A United States cavalry border patrol killed thirty-five Mexican bandits and wounded many others in repelling a raid on an American ranch by a force of 200 bandits, who were intent on robbing the ranch and killing the patrol.

The Rev. H. Watson Barriss, of the Frankford Avenue Baptist Church, was elected president; Dr. George L. Young, of the Jenkinson Baptist Church, secretary.

The meeting was held in special recognition of the fact that Adam Frank, pastor of the first Baptist church in Burma, when he came to Philadelphia, more than 100 years ago, spoke only in the Twelfth street edifice, now occupied by the Sunday Breakfast Association, but soon to be torn down. The Rev. Dr. John Gordon, dean of Temple University, moved that a vote of thanks and offering be extended to the association, which was done.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur, of New York, president of the World Alliance, was the orator of the occasion. He referred to the Rev. Dr. Gillette as always having worn a robe when preaching and said he wished that all would observe greater propriety for ecclesiastical dignity. Doctor MacArthur always wears a robe in conducting service.

SUFFRAGISTS NEAR LONG-BOUGHT GOAL

Think National Convention Next Week Is Prelude to Victory

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—With former ambassador James W. Gerard, Mrs. William G. McAdoo, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and Miss Jeannette Rankin, among the speakers scheduled to date, and other men and women of national and international prominence expected to take part, the convention program of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, preliminary announcement of which is made today, promises to contain features of unprecedented interest.

The convention will be held at the Hotel Washington, December 12 to 15, inclusive. Suffrage leaders say it will be the last convention in Washington, for they believe Congress will pass the Federal woman suffrage amendment this session. As this amendment has been the goal of the National Woman Suffrage Association throughout the fifty years of its existence, the organization will then transfer its activities to other fields than Washington.

First to the State Legislatures, where the amendment must be ratified, and then to the proper utilization of the vote it will have secured for the women of the country.

Preconvention activities will begin on Monday, December 10, with the meeting of the national executive council at the Hotel Washington, 1225 Rhode Island avenue. Executive conferences will continue throughout the day on Tuesday. Tuesday evening the delegates will be formally welcomed at the Willard Hotel, where the hostesses will be Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Mrs. Newton D. Baker, Mrs. Thomas W. Gregory, Mrs. Albert Sidney Thurston, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Mrs. David F. Houston, Miss Agnes Hart Wilson, Mrs. James R. Mann and Mrs. Philip Pittman.

This event will be the first of the cabinet and the wives of two prominent members of the House in the receiving line, will be a brilliant social affair as well as of political significance.

The convention will be opened at 2 p. m. Wednesday by the president, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. While the entire program of the week points toward the national amendment, subjects considered at the various sessions will include the following: "Friends and Enemies of Presidential Suffrage," "Should We Work for Woman Suffrage by the Amendment or by the States?"

The speaker urged that those boys being sent to the front should not be regarded as only physical beings, but as souls which will never perish. He said that we should deal in a world of souls rather than of bodies.

"The war," he said, "will rid us of three harmful souls, the fatty degeneration of the soul called personal pride, prosperity, emotionalism, which is a kind of intellectual spree and intellectual pride and affectional satisfaction."

He explained affectional satisfaction as that which is felt by the head of the family who gathers all of his own children by his fireside, shuts the doors and gives thanks that his family is intact. He said that this man should believe that the souls of those he loved were their real selves.

A motion directing every preacher present to write to his congressman urging the passing of the national prohibition amendment to the Constitution was passed.

Churches Aid Food Saving
WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 3.—The Delaware food administration began its work among the churches in this city. The speakers in Wilmington were former Federal Judge George Gray and United States Senator Josiah O. Wolcott. The same plan was followed in other parts of the State.

At the evening meetings some of the speakers will be Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury and chairman of the woman's Liberty Loan committee; Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense; Miss Jeannette Rankin, member of Congress from Montana; Miss Norma Delano, of the Red Cross; Mrs. Norman R. Whitehouse, president of the New York State Woman Suffrage party; Miss Mary Garrett Hay, chairman of the Woman Suffrage party of the city of New York; Miss Helen Fraser, of London, England, coworker of Mrs. Millicent Fawcett in the constitutional suffrage movement of Great Britain, and Mrs. Nellie McClung, of the Canadian Woman Suffrage Association. The full list of speakers will be announced later.

City's Payroll Heavily Padded

positions has resulted in totals never before heard of even when the need and generally approved increase to the police and fire bureau are taken into account. During the eighteen meetings of the Finance Committee to pass on budgets, that will be approved by Council this month, the city was repeatedly called to the heavy burden the taxpayers are forced to carry because of "useless places."

PAYROLL "CAMOUFLAGE"
In most instances departmental heads have the power to pay out of loan moneys, the salaries of the hundreds of places created in this city as a result of steady increases being granted to the fortunate holders of the places that are really independent of Council's control. The taking of these salaries from the loan moneys allows Council Finance Committee to return a grand total of salary items of only $17,448,771, or only between three and four millions more than was the case during the last year of the Blenheim Administration.

This figure by no means covers personal service items, as it does not include the other 350 salary items in loan funds, that range as high as $8000 a year and that call for a total of loan funds of over $320,000.

Chairman Robert M. Griffith, of the Civil Service Commission, begged the sound-minded financiers to put the city on a business basis by abolishing needless jobs, but his warning went unheeded. Select Councilman Isaac D. Hettzel, of the Eighteenth Ward, demanded that jobs be curtailed, especially as it was apparent that there would not be materials on hand for many of the different classes of workers and that their services would not be needed by the city during 1918.

Not only has Council Finance Committee failed to abolish old places, but it has allowed the city to clutter up loan items with big forces, but tentative promises of general salary increases in 1918 have been made to dissatisfied workers. All of the hundreds of employees in the county department, many of whom, it was broadly hinted, were kept on the payroll for their ability to carry divisions at election time rather than any real work they do for the city, have been retained at the present salary of Receiver of Taxes W. Freeland Kendrick, Recorder of Deeds James M. Hazlett and Register of Wills James B. Sheehan.

LICENSE CLERK SELECTED
Charles Dalrymple Named to Serve U. S. Mine Bureau in This District

The Bureau of Mines in Washington today announced the appointment of Charles Dalrymple, of this city, as license clerk in the Philadelphia district. The position regulates the sale of high explosives.

There is no salary attached to the office. Services are compensated through fees. For year Mr. Dalrymple has been license clerk in the Mayor's office. He will not resign from this position.

City Appointments

City appointments today include Henry C. Chapin, 5122 Regent street, computer, Bureau of Surveys, salary $2200; Charles S. August, 2810 North Ninth street, clerk, Bureau of Highways, $1400; Thomas E. Redmile, 203 Clark street, inspector, Bureau of Street Cleaning, $1200, and Andrew W. Wiegand, 2114 North Clarion street, the observer, Department of Waivers, Docks and Harbors, $1600.

WOULD KILL GERMANS TO SAVE THEIR SOULS

Methodist Preacher Urges Ruthless Love and Inexorable Pity as War Spirit

TO BE RID OF FAULTS

Three Evils Will Be Eliminated as Result of Great Conflict

An unusually fiery philosophy was voiced by the Rev. Philip Osgood, of the Church of the Mediator, Fifty-first and Spruce streets, today before the Methodist Preachers' Association, when he advocated the saving of the German soul by the killing of the Germans.

"Our principal agony," said Mr. Osgood, "should be over the fact that such an anti-Christian thing as the Nietzsche in philosophy has gained any following in this world."

Mr. Osgood said that our attitude toward the Germans should be of ruthless love and inexorable pity and that every bullet and every bit of shrapnel should be hurled in this spirit.

The preacher heartily applauded Mr. Osgood's speech after he had finished and four of them paid a tribute to his Christianity.

"There is a trite saying used when parents punish their children," said Mr. Osgood. "The parents say, 'It hurts me worse than it does you.' That should be our attitude toward the Germans. Every one of our blows should be struck in the name of Christ. Even in the midst of the furnace we may walk cleansed and purified."

The speaker urged that those boys being sent to the front should not be regarded as only physical beings, but as souls which will never perish. He said that we should deal in a world of souls rather than of bodies.

"The war," he said, "will rid us of three harmful souls, the fatty degeneration of the soul called personal pride, prosperity, emotionalism, which is a kind of intellectual spree and intellectual pride and affectional satisfaction."
